WELCOME TO OLD MONTREAL!

Montréal is one of the few major cities in North America that has preserved the heritage of its historical centre. In this old walled city, you can still find narrow cobblestone streets dating back to the French colony, and charming public squares bordered by majestic 18th and 19th century Victorian buildings. You will also see Canada's very first skyscrapers in the heart of what was then the downtown core. Enjoy your visit!

Montréal was founded on May 17, 1642.

Paul de Chomedey, Sieur de Maisonneuve, and Lady Jeanne Mance, along with a handful of French settlers, soldiers, artisans, farmers and priests, founded the Ville-Marie missionary outpost at Pointe-à-Callière. This outpost would later become Montréal.

Paul de Chomedey, sieur de Maisonneuve (1612-1675),
co-founder and governor of the Island of Montréal for 24 years.

Jeanne Mance (1606-1673),
co-founder and governor of the Island of Montréal.
She established the Hôtel-Dieu,
the first hospital in the colony.

Monuments honouring de Maisonneuve and Jeanne Mance, place d'Armes.
Works by Louis-Philippe Hébert (1895).

Montréal's birthplace

Very rarely can a city pinpoint its exact place of birth, but Montréal can! And remnants of the city's first building are still accessible to the public. A meeting place for Native people for over 2,500 years, Fort de Ville-Marie, as the site is known today, is located at Place D'Youville.

Old Seminary

The Old Sulpician Seminary is the oldest building still standing in Montréal (1684). It served as a residence for the Sulpicians, the seigneurs of Montréal in the 17th and 18th centuries.

Champ-de-Mars

Over the years, the Champ-de-Mars esplanade has seen its share of historic gatherings. The foundations of the fortifications, the stone walls that surrounded the city up until the early 19th century, can still be seen here.

HERITAGE ATTRACTIONS

Place d'Armes

In the heart of the historical district, Place d'Armes provides a complete overview of all periods in the history of Montréal: from the city's oldest building to the church of its very first parish, from the head office of the country's first bank (Bank of Montreal) to Canada's first skyscraper, the New York Life building. Inaugurated in 1888, this building had an elevator to go up its eight floors ... quite the novelty at the time!

Saint-Paul Street

The oldest street in Montréal is home to many art galleries, boutiques, restaurants and cafés. Its authentic cobblestone pavement and magnificent facades are a must-see!

Saint-Jacques Street

McGill Street was built in 1805 following the demolition of the fortifications, the walls erected between 1717 and 1738 under the French Regime. McGill Street has regained its prestige of yesteryear.

RELIGIOUS HERITAGE

Marché Bonsecours

Inaugurated in 1847 and a testimony to the Classical Revival style in vogue at the time, the Bonsecours Market served as city hall until 1878. Completely restored, it now houses trendy designer boutiques.
